

RVers of IDAHO

FEBRUARY 2025 Newsletter

Here it is another month closer to camping season, and we are looking forward to the great times shared with our fellow RVers members. It's kind of ironic that we came to Yuma so that we wouldn't have to shovel snow and our sidewalk and driveway at home has been snow free so far this winter. Oh well we are still enjoying the warmer weather.

We hope to see you at the state camping events this summer. The June rally is at Glens Ferry the 9th through the 14th of June, Tim is putting together a great program for us there. I encourage you to help out if you are asked to assist with any of the events. The September rally will be at Trinity View Resort the 9th through the 14th of September. We need someone to chair the fall rally and would like for the chairperson to be in place before the June rally so that he or she could have sufficient time to get things planned out. I hope to have a tentative schedule for the June rally on the calendar this month.

Chapter presidents be sure to vote in your chapters on the updated Operating Guidelines before the June meeting, it would be helpful to have a definitive set of guidelines to go by rather than having to try and interpret the current rules that we have. The current rules are quite vague, and they do not reflect some of the practices that have been followed for some time. The proposed guidelines were discussed at length at last fall's meeting and all chapters had representation at the meeting. I am pretty sure that the concerns that members had were resolved and the proposed guidelines remove the uncertainties that are in the current guidelines.

RV TIPS OF THE MONTH: Some uses for coffee filters, they are great covers for heating food in the microwave. Use them to absorb moisture in your cast iron cookware to prevent rust, they are a good glass cleaner. Use several thicknesses for absorbing bacon grease, they make good holders for tacos, burritos and messy sandwiches.

FUNNIES FOR THE MONTH; Son to mother "Mom there is a small PTA meeting tomorrow". Mom "What do you mean SMALL". Son "It's just you, me and the principal". Computer salesman to customer "This computer will do half of your work for you". Customer "I'll take two of them then". Mom "Where is your brother?" Son "If the ice is as thick as he thinks he's skating, if it's as thick as I think it is he's swimming".

Take care and have a good February,

Ken and Monica
